Honor the History and Future of Public Media in Southern Arizona

In 1959, KUAT Channel 6 was the first non-commercial educational television station in Arizona. Over 60 years later, AZPM continues looking to the future with community members like you in mind.

Thanks to the support of donors, AZPM continues to be an award-winning, unbiased, and reliable source of news, education, and entertainment for millions in eleven counties of Arizona. Even more is possible with your monthly or annual gift to the Paul and Alice Baker Center for Public Media.

Five-year monthly or annual commitments to AZPM's Bridging Communities capital campaign will be recognized in this new facility, and your contribution will ensure public media thrives in Southern Arizona for generations to come!
